Venue: The British Institute of Radiology,
36 Portland Place, London, W1B 1AT

Thursday 24 April 2008

We are all becoming much more specialised in our day to day working. However at night and at weekends we are expected to provide a general service to cover emergency requirement.

Most of us will have to be able to provide knowledge and skill to recognise and interpret conditions that may not fit into our normal everyday working experience. This can leave us feeling vulnerable.

This one day meeting is being held to discuss what is expected of us and from us but also to explore potential different ways of working.

Registration: 24 April 2008

The DALI Museum

This year the BIR Annual Dinner will be held at an extraordinary venue - the Dali Museum.

Located in the County Hall Gallery, this prestigious and innovative venue with a riverfront entrance has a direct view on Big Ben and is located right next to the London Eye.

We look forward to greeting you in the dreamlike labyrinth of one of the greatest surrealists and a creative genius of the twentieth century where the work of other prestigious artists such as Chagall, Picasso and Warhol are also exhibited.
